Kristina,

I would like to pursue another funding request to DNR and need Commission approval. Can you put this on the agenda for the 16th and 18th of March? The grant is due on the 1st of April, so that should give me plenty of time to make copies, and mail it in.

Public Works:

Grant Request - This 2 year project with a request of $9,775 would be used to conduct three workshops which will provide training for stream side homeowners. Workshops will demonstrate erosion products and installation techniques so homeowners can repair bank erosion and care for their streams without causing additional problems downstream. Partners include City of Columbia, ASP Enterprises, and Missouri Petroleum. Match in the amount of $6,575 will come from product donations and staff time on the event.

Thanks!

Hinkson Creek Watershed Restoration Project, Phase II,

8. OBJECTIVES: (MUST BE SPECIFIC AND MEASURABLE)

- 1) The short term goal is to increase awareness and knowledge about proper construction placement, effectiveness, cost and environmental benefits (ie reduction of concentrated flow, velocity, erosion, and other NPS benefits), of stream management BMPs. This will be accomplished by designing and constructing three (3) demonstration projects on privately-owned problem sites in Boone County. Three workshops will be held in different areas of the county to facilitate greater participation and buy-in. Public works staff, commissioners, and developers will be invited as well as landowners.
- 2) The intermediate goal is to increase the acceptibility and use of these BMPs.
- 3) The long-term goal is to reduce channel erosion and sedimentation, empower landowners with the tools and knowledge to address a stream erosion problem, and what to do.

9. OUTPUT: (TANGIBLE RESULTS OF PROJECT)

- 1) Three (3) streamside demonstrations on sites that are currently eroding,
- 2) Three (3) workshops with at least 25 participants each,
- 3) Two (2) field days with at least 15 participants each,
- 4) Workshop materials and handouts, including an updated StreamCare
- 5) Stream Table
- 6) Additional sites where landowners have utilized BMPs to slow water velocity, reduce erosion and sedimentation to streams,
- 7) Signs at the demonstration area crediting DNR with funding assistance, and explaining the project,
- 8) Photo journal and project write-up on Boone County stormwater website,
- 9) Two (2) articles in the public works newsletter,
- 10) Pre and post survey of workshop participants.

10. EVALUATION METHODS: (MUST QUANTIFY ATTAINMENT OF OBJECTIVES AND EFFECTIVENESS OF RESULTS AND OUTPUTS)

- 1) To evaluate success of the short term goal (increase the awareness and knowledge about how streams function, when it is appropriate to Do It Yourself (DIY) stream bank restoration, what products are available, and how they are used), 75 landowners in Boone County will attend the workshops, 30 people will attend the field days, and three (3) sites will be restored.
- 2) To evaluate the success of the intermediate goal (increase the acceptibility and use of these BMPs by Boone County landowners on their own streams), staff will offer incentives with project partners on design and BMP materials. It is anticipated that at least 3 additional streamside sites in the County will be addressed due to the info/ed gained in the workshops.
- 3) The long-term goal is to prevent erosion and channel incision. Success will be measured by pre and post surveys, willingness to accept and try stream care incentives, and feedback from the community. Quantifying erosion reduction is outside the scope of the project, although modeling will be used to estimate load reduction.

Stream Care for Landowners

Problem Identification: As Boone County urbanizes the frequency and intensity of in-channel flooding increases. These bankfull events scour the stream bed and overwhelm the banks. One very noticeable effect of that scouring and inundation is the loss of protective vegetation. Without trees and grasses, banks collapse and streams widen. Many streamside landowners are frustrated with the loss of property and the creation of deep ravines where there was once a small stream. Often the landowners will throw riprap on the stream bank to try to fix the problem. Without using correctly sized rock, or filter fabric, this often makes the problem worse. In other areas, backyards are transformed into streams when stormwater flows through the property, eroding a new channel. Many landowners do not know when the problem is fixable, or too big to handle. They are not familiar with many of the erosion and sediment control products. When these products are properly placed erosion and down cutting can be reduced.

Working with our partners, we will sponsor three hands-on workshops/events for streamside landowners. The purpose is to provide landowners with:

1. Familiarization of the stormwater regulations, stream buffer setback requirements, land disturbance and 401/404 Corps/DNR permits.
2. An understanding of stream processes, via stream table discussion and stream care guidelines
3. General ideas of structural and non structural BMPs and how they work
4. An introduction to different erosion and sediment control (ESC) products such as filter fabric, scour stop etc., that are appropriate in back-yard applications
5. A hands-on demonstration of product use and placement
6. Other community resources, (NRCS and SWCD, Greenbelt Land Trust, GrowNative and StreamTeams).

Project overview: The project manager and Professional Engineer (PE) will work with local landowners that have stream bank erosion problems on their property. One of several problem sites will be evaluated to establish suitability for BMP placement and demonstration site access. Once a suitable site is determined, (one site per workshop) the BMP will be placed in the stream or on private property. The engineer will design and oversee BMP construction.

Workshop: three workshops, each four hours (½ day) will be held to inform and educate local landowners on proper installation, BMP maintenance, and permit requirements for stream stabilization. Guest speakers will include USDA, USACOE, and MDC.

During that event, presentations, fliers or handouts will validate cost effectiveness of the practice. It is anticipated that this BMP will be placed on an additional three (3) sites by the end of the project.

Anticipated Outcomes: The short term goal of this project is to increase the awareness and knowledge on the proper construction, maintenance, placement, effectiveness, cost and environmental benefits of erosion control BMPs. This will be accomplished by hosting three (3) demonstration workshops for Boone County streamside landowners, with a target of 25 participants each, and two (2) public field days (held in conjunction with other field days, such as Jefferson Farms, Hinkson or Raingarden events). The intermediate goal is to increase the use of these BMPs on three (3) sites within Boone County before the end of the minigrant project period. This will be accomplished by providing incentives to landowners and staff for locating potential sites and for proper maintenance. The long range goal is to improve environmental conditions by reducing NPS pollution in the form of erosion and stream sedimentation through BMP implementation.

Target audience:

Boone County maintains the streets and infrastructure for over 53 subdivisions. Unfortunately county maintenance ends at the right-of-way. Homeowners with natural streams or drainageways through their property are often overwhelmed with stormwater problems. This project would help provide information to those homeowners so they can make decisions on how to care for their streams, without causing additional problems downstream.

Evaluation, Assessment and Reporting:

The project manager will assess project success by evaluating the following,

- BMP effectiveness. How cost effective was this BMP in both labor and materials? What changes should be made in other situations? Could the BMP be modified in other situations to reduce costs? Was it maintained for the entire project period? Was there a visual difference in sedimentation and erosion after BMP construction? (Use photos to verify). How might this BMP work with other erosion control BMPs for increased effectiveness?
- Educational campaign effectiveness. Was the target audience's attendance at the event met or exceeded? Were the minimum educational goals met or exceeded? How could the project be modified to increase awareness or provide better information?

- Behavioral changes. Were the three (3) additional BMPs installed and maintained? Was this goal exceeded? Was there a change in acceptance of the use of erosion control BMPs in Boone County?

The answers to these questions and many more will be compiled in the final report to DNR, along with a photo journal.

Assurances: These BMPs may be placed in jurisdictional waters of the state and therefore would require a 404/401 permit. A qualified PE would design the projects, and work with the project manager, Army Corps of Engineers and DNR staff for applicable permits. Landowners would be required to sign a maintenance agreement for 10 years or the life of the BMP. These BMPs are not specifically listed in the county's Stormwater Management Program, (SWMP) and therefore this grant request is not for a NPDES permitted activity.

This is a photo of an urbanizing stream. Notice the channel incision, exposed roots and leaning trees.
